Day of Art:
April 24
At Lichtenstein Center for the Arts in Pittsfield:

Bookmaking Workshop

9:30AM TO 12:30PM

INSTRUCTOR: Ann Kremers

TUITION: $45 / $50

Learn the basics of bookmaking and then create a few simple books.

Explore different book shapes and making bindings with decorative and unusual elements. Then go home and recreate the process with easily-found supplies, and make more books to give or to fill with drawings and ideas! All materials provided; no experience necessary.

Creature Creation

1PM TO 4PM

INSTRUCTOR: Karylee Doubiago

TUITION: $45/ $50

Come play with fabrics, construction, and your imagination! In this workshop, we will make a creature of your invention out of felt and fabric, exploring how different colors, textures, cuts and shapes can be assembled to make a truly personal object. You will go home with a stuffed creature to display, use as a pillow, or share as a gift. No experience necessary!

Drawing and the Book (11 - 15 YEARS)

APRIL 7 TO MAY 12, (FIVE SESSIONS) NO CLASS APRIL 21

FIVE TUESDAYS, 6 TO 8 PM LOCATION: Williams Inn, Williamstown

INSTRUCTOR: Kathline Carr

MEMBER TUITION: $120 NOT-YET- MEMBER TUITION: $140 PLUS $10

LOCATION FEE

This class is all about paper – using it as we draw, layer, print, and construct and then mix it all up! We will loosen up using fun drawing exercises and learn to make plates and print them with an etching press. From our prints, drawings and other source images (from magazines etc.) we will create handmade books, make hybrid works mixing 2D and 3D forms, and play with incorporating text in many forms.

School vacation Week of Art - at the
